First, at this moment I need only the cost information/quotation not a delivery of devices because I am working at a project proposal and I need to estimate the total budget. For this I need to compare not only the specs of various devices but also their costs in order to select the most suitable one(s) for the project, so right now the question of delivery or usage of the devices is irrelevant.

Second, the project proposal itself is about water quality assessment and monitoring using UV absorption as well as fluorescence.
